Finding Scholarly Publications

You often need to use scholarly publications for college-level research. This tutorial will help you identify scholarly publications and use Library Quick Search to find them. After finishing this module, you should be able to:

1. Identify the characteristics of scholarly publications.
2. Recognize useful search options available in Library Quick Search.
3. Choose scholarly publications via Library Quick Search.

Scholarly publications do not have to meet all of the listed criteria, but they should at least meet several.

Art of Colonial Latin America

Key Resources

- Project on the Engraved Sources of Spanish Colonial Art - PESSCA
  Includes images, essays, and links to excellent print and online resources.

- Vistas: Visual Culture in Spanish America, 1520-1820
  Find images and links to other online sources. Use extensive bibliographies that can be sorted by country, theme, or material to find lists of important books and journal articles on your topics.

- World Images Kiosk: Latin American Colonial
  Images from California State University.

- Mexican Colonial Architecture
  Images of churches and their various architectural components throughout Mexico.

- World Digital Library - Latin America and the Caribbean
  A digital collection of maps, codex images, documents, and photographs from Pre-Columbian Latin America to about 1900.

- The Mapas Project
  The Mapas Project has as its focus the digitization and study of colonial Mesoamerican pictorial manuscripts. The term “mapa” was used loosely in New Spain to refer to pictorials that may or may not have had a cartographic dimension, but often showed the territories or landscapes of indigenous communities.

- LLILAS Benson Digital Collections from the Benson Latin American Collection
  Digitized images and documents from the history of Latin America from the Benson Latin American Collection at UT Austin.

- Foundation for the Advancement of Mesoamerican Studies - FAMS
  A wealth of information on Mesoamerica. Includes access to the Bibliografía Mesoamericana, as well as resources on the history, culture, timelines, codices, and more.

- Bibliografía Mesoamericana (FAMS)
  An extensive bibliography of the anthropology of Mesoamerica, including Mexico and parts of Central America, it includes areas such as archaeology, ethnography, ethnohistory, art history, linguistics, and physical anthropology. Available from the FAMS website.

- Mesoweb
  Includes digitized articles, images and other resources.
