Current events encourage student engagement with the content by tying it to what they know/the real world.

This practice also helps encourage participation in class!