Creating an Original Short Film in Spanish

Lilian Cano
Modern Languages and Literatures - lilian.cano@utsa.edu

Teaching Modality
Face-to-Face

Active Learning Technique Steps

1. In groups, students discuss and decide the type of short film they want to create.

2. Create a storyboard where they include some of the following information: For example, genre, theme, message, characters, setting, synopsis, and pictures.

3. Write the scenes of the short film.

4. Perform and record their short film and watch them as a class as their final project.

Benefit to Student

1. Students control what they want to create and how they want to tell the story.

2. Students practice their Spanish writing and speaking skills creatively.

3. By listening to the short films produced, students continue to practice the language while learning from one another.

UTSA Academy of Distinguished Teaching Scholars